Committee Announces Support for Initial Reforms
Additional reform measures still being considered

SACRAMENTO - Citizens to Save California (CSC) announced today that the committee has amended its filing with the California Secretary of State's office, modifying the committee's status from a general purpose committee to a primarily formed committee.

The filing change marks the committee's decision to support two important reform initiatives - the Fair and Responsible Retirement Act and the Put the Kids First Act. As soon as the committee receives title and summary, CSC will take these petitions to the people and ask for their support. The committee will continue to consider other reform measures that will put California's economy back on track.

"These two initiatives are an important part of reforming California and making it the Golden State again," said Joel Fox, co-chair of CSC. "Ensuring California's kids get a quality education and that our retirement system doesn't bankrupt local communities are top priorities of this committee."

The Put Kids First Act will help ensure our kids get the best education and the best teachers possible. And the Fair and Responsible Retirement Act will provide stability to California's out-of-control pension system.
