

PROP 11 ACHIEVES “LANDSLIDE” VICTORY

(December 3, 2008) – Based on a county by county canvass today of the final vote it is expected that Prop11 will achieve a passing margin of 50.8% when finally certified by the Secretary of State. The final certification must be done no later than December 13, 2008.

This means that the next redrawing of State Senate and Assembly districts will be done by an independent commission under strict guidelines established in the law. The new districts will be in effect for the 2012 election. For more detailed information on the measure please see www.yesprop11.org.

The campaign and the staff at the Roundtable would like to thank you for your assistance in this landmark win. At least five similar redistricting proposals have previously failed passage. There is no single answer to fixing a dysfunctional legislature but this is a great start!
